ALABAMA ELECTRONIC SECURITY BOARD OF LICENSURE ADMINISTRATIVE CODE

CHAPTER 304-X-1

304-X-1-.05 Code of Ethics.

(1) The following code is intended to aid companies licensed by the Alabama Electronic Security Board of Licensure and their employees, individually and collectively, (hereinafter referred to as companies), in maintaining a high level of ethical conduct. This code evolved out of the experience of the Board and is binding on all licensed firms and their staffs.

(a) Companies will further the public interest by contributing to the development of a better understanding and use of the capacities, abilities and technical skills of the electronic security industry in the State of Alabama, the United States of America and neighboring countries by accepting their responsibilities to the communities within which we live and work.

(b) Companies will present their qualifications to prospective clients solely in terms of their ability, experience and reputations; will strive continuously to improve their knowledge, skills and techniques to make available to their clients the benefits of their professional attainments; and will not cause harm to another company by their actions or words.

(c) Companies will always be mindful of the trust placed in them by customers and of their responsibility to render services at the highest level of quality.

(d) Companies will assure that all of their employees are carefully oriented so that they will clearly understand company operations, policies, and procedures.

(e) Companies will apply uniform and equitable standards of employment opportunity and assure that the best possible use is made of the abilities, technical and other, of their employees regardless of race, creed, color, sex or age.

(f) Companies will endeavor to provide opportunity for the professional advancement of those employees who enter the security industry by assisting them to acquire additional knowledge and competence in their technical skills and to keep up with significant advances in the state of art.

(g) Companies will maintain a wholly professional attitude toward those they serve, those who assist them, toward other firms in the industry, towards the members of other professions, and toward the practitioners of allied arts and sciences.

(h) Companies will respect the reputation and practice of other firms in the security industry, but without hesitation, will report to the proper authority, conduct that may be unethical.

(i) Companies will give to each client their state license number and each individual will show his/her identification card to all clients and possible clients.

(j) Companies will inform each client of their rights and encourage them to maintain records of all activities and contracts related to the installation of locks or an electronic security system.

(k) Companies will adequately train each client in the proper use of their locks or electronic security system, will provide customers lockout codes upon receipt of written requests, and will not sell customers pre-programmed panels without written disclosure to the customer.

(l) Companies will advise customers who already have electronic security service that, if they already have a contract for services, they may be obligated for payments under the terms of their present contracts as well as any new contract signed. Companies will not misrepresent what is in a contract, while informing them of alternatives and changes in the technology of the industry.

(m) Companies will respond within ten (10) business days to customer complaints regarding sales, installation, servicing or monitoring of their locks or electronic security systems or the conduct of any person employed or sub-contracted by the company.

(n) Company representatives will make a reasonable attempt to identify the owner of a residence, a commercial establishment, or vehicle before performing work.

(2) Any company, including all employees of a company, and any person who violates one or more cannon of ethics in this code shall be subject to disciplinary action. If, after a hearing, the Board determines that a company or person is, in fact, guilty of a violation, the Board may impose a monetary penalty, a sanction, suspend or revoke a license.

(3) Upon proof (proof being a civil order or criminal conviction) that any licensee or licensed company has engaged in behavior that has violated any Federal,

State, or Local law and, upon evidence that said behavior has had a negative impact on (potential) consumers of the alarm or locksmith business or has negatively impacted any other business (even those not in the locksmith or alarm installation business), shall be subject to a fine or other disciplinary action at the discretion of the Board or its investigative committee. Negative impact is conduct of such an egregious nature that it interferes with a business' daily operations or interferes with an individual's ability to feel safe, secure, or unharmed in their own home or residence.
